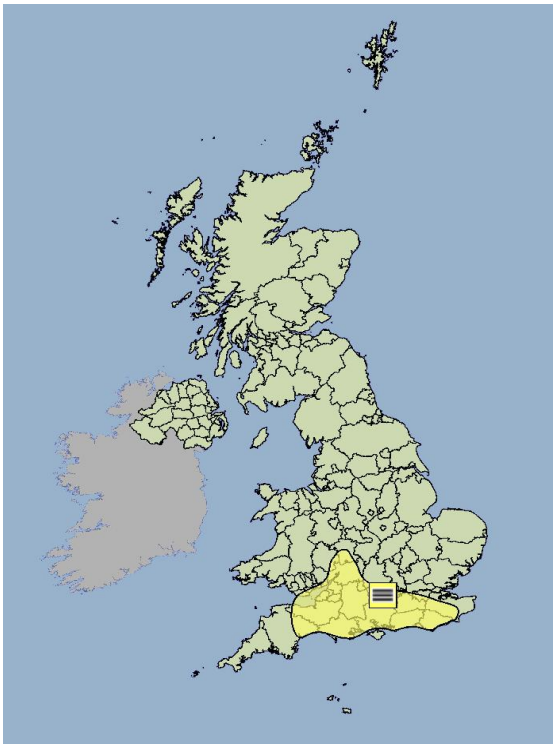
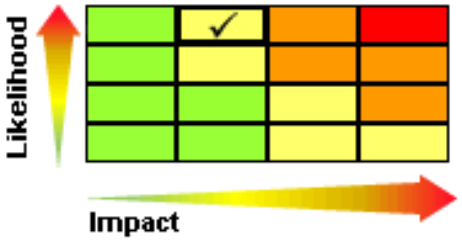
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Fog has developed overnight across parts of southern England and south east Wales. Furthermore additional fog patches are likely this morning across parts of the south West Midlands.

Not everywhere in the warning area will experience fog, though where this does form the visibility will drop below 100 m in places. This is most likely in low lying areas and river valleys.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Fog

Valid from 05:00 on Fri, 03rd Nov 2017 until 11:00 on Fri, 03rd Nov 2017

Fog is affecting parts of the country and additional fog patches are likely to develop around dawn. Fog will only slowly clear this morning.

Hazardous driving conditions and slower journey times can be expected. Delays to bus and train services, plus delays or cancellations to flights are possible.
